Countries That Provide Fresh Passports/Visas:

1. UAE: The UAE offers a relatively easy visa process for tourists and residents, and its visa policies are known to be more lenient. They often provide eVisas or visa-on-arrival options for nationals of many countries.
2. Turkey: Turkey has a simple eVisa system for many countries, including Bangladesh. The process is straightforward, and applications are usually approved quickly.
3. Qatar: Qatar offers tourist visas that are quick to process, often providing visa-on-arrival or eVisa options for several nationalities.
4. Sri Lanka: Sri Lanka's visa on arrival is available to tourists from many countries, including Bangladesh. The country provides quick eVisas as well.
5. Maldives: The Maldives provides visa-free entry for most nationalities, allowing tourists to get a visa on arrival for stays up to 30 days.
6. Cambodia: Cambodia provides visa-on-arrival for Bangladeshi passport holders, making it easier to obtain a visa for entry.

Countries Requiring Multiple Visits or Complex Travel History:

1. United States: The US often looks for a strong travel history. If a person has visited multiple countries, it can positively influence their visa application, especially if the person has demonstrated good travel behavior.
2. Canada: Similar to the US, Canada values previous travel experience, especially to countries like the UK, Schengen Area countries, or other developed nations. A history of visiting countries like the US, UK, or EU can increase the chances of getting approved.
3. Schengen Area: Countries in the Schengen Area require applicants to show a solid travel history. Visiting multiple Schengen countries or other developed nations can be advantageous, especially when applying for a long-term visa.

4. Australia: A history of travel to countries such as the US, UK, or Canada may improve your chances of getting a visitor or student visa, as it shows your ability to adhere to visa regulations.
5. New Zealand: Much like Australia, New Zealand values a strong travel history, especially with visas for countries like the US, UK, or Schengen countries.
6. United Kingdom: The UK often requires a proven history of international travel. Applicants may need to demonstrate past visits to countries like the US, Australia, Canada, or EU member states.

Recommendations for Clients Who Want to Build a Travel History:

- Start with Visa-Friendly Countries: Begin by applying for visas to countries that have relatively simpler visa processes (e.g., UAE, Turkey, Sri Lanka, Maldives, and Cambodia).
- Show Consistency: When applying for multiple visas, ensure that you've complied with all regulations, stayed within your visa limits, and have a clear travel pattern.
- Build Relationships with Embassies: Regular travel to countries with established relationships with Bangladesh (e.g., Schengen Area, the US, UK, or Canada) can help increase credibility in future applications.

By following this process and offering tailored advice, Visa Stories Consultancy ensures clients have the best chances of success in securing their visas.
